

Last targeted building to be razed at 39th and Prospect, Nash says

Kansas City Business Journal: February 21, 2001.

Kansas City Councilman Troy Nash on Wednesday announced plans to demolish the last targeted building on the corner of 39th Street and Prospect Avenue after $12,000 was appropriated by the City Council's Neighborhood and Development Committee.

Nash, who represents the long-impooverished area and last summer camped out at the corner to draw attention to its problems, said that three other structures already have been demolished.

The plan is part of a larger initiative to redevelop the Prospect corridor from 25th Street in Midtown to 47th Street on Brush Creek east of the Country Club Plaza.
